

Open Access (OA)- My Love

My love I need to make a key
Made of pure refined gold is the key
That opens the heart and souls of many OA my love you have given me a key for many

My love In the middle of dreams you woke me up
And gave me water to wash my face, brought me reality
My beautiful love you came with more than I deserve from you home
All this pleasantries your heart is full of generosity

My love your beauty is like the cowrie shells the incomparable one
How I ever longed to meet you and hold you in my arms that I won
It has ended with love, exchange of pain with joy
You brought exchange of my tears with laughter my bride

All the regrets you have brought sweet memoirs to me
And the rugged path has come to an end with you by my side
All that I ever felt to share to my audience
You have come to be the my pillar with patience

I never thought I would ever be the king
Dinning together with publishers and award winning writers here I swing
My love I can never be able to pay for all you have done for me
Being the cornerstone of my life transformation

The strength you have given to me
Can make stand even during the storm on me
All the waters rage
With you I will overcome my love
