

THOUGHTS OF BEFORE THE DAY

Before our big day
All I see are drops in the stay
Of our dreams and wishes
Are pressing our chest and blisters on our hands glitters

Days of our joy and merrymaking
Are waving in the air and calling
At the altar filled with pleasantries
Of the sweet air sways the mind like the butterflies

The most beautiful bride of our big day ever
What of the fountain of water and greener field at the back ever
It holds the golden key to our lives dreams and wishes come true
We the pen writers of the institution of the dreamt library

How long shall we rejoice of the awesome place to stay
On this side coffee never let you be dizzy on the way
On other side gymnasium to exercise the body without straining
How will it be on that day coming as tomorrow morning

Like the kings and queen we shall dine
Taking from the table of wisdom and knowledge not wine
Be served like inborn by the Knowledge Ambassadors
Each time that flies the cleaner build has for you open doors

The sun will crush the fog of poverty
We are almost to the oasis of our dreamt property
All our burdens shall be let out of our back
When that big day comes for us in the back

The rain will cleanse the dwells of idleness
The nights shall marry the days
The research being done the referencing
The perfect day of our school CUCK is coming
